

NATIONAL LIBRARIAN'S DAY CAMPAIGN - 2026

Key Message

Prof. Anil Sahasrabudhe

On the occasion of National Librarian's Day marking the Birth Anniversary of Prof. S.R. Ranganathan, I extend my warmest greetings to the team at INFLIBNET and the entire library and information science community.

Prof. Ranganathan's visionary work reminded us that "Books are for use" and "Every reader his or her book"; to this day, his theories continue to shape modern library and information services. In today's digital era, libraries remain the ultimate democratic spaces for knowledge, truth, and intellectual growth.

I strongly support INFLIBNET's Campaign for Libraries as they continue to transform these vital institutions into digital gateways for the future. May this campaign inspire a renewed commitment to learning and community development across the nation.
